South African Journal of Plant and Soil

Society Members have free access to the journal through society membership subscription

New Features on the Taylor and Francis Website
- Journal has grown considerably in support with increased downloads
- Archive of all past papers now available

Society Members can Enhance the Status of the Journal by
- Actively supporting the journal through downloads free to combined society members
- Submitting your high quality research manuscripts to the journal

Society Members can Enhance the ISI Scientific Rating (now estimated at 0.265) by
- Citing past SAJPS research papers in your manuscripts submitted to SAJPS
- Citing past SAJPS articles in other publications
- Asking high-profile international research partners to publish with you in SAJPS

Note: ISI Rating and hence scientific status is strongly dependent on number of times the South African Journal of Plant and Soil is cited in all publications.
1. Go to Google. Enter 'Taylor and Francis Online'.
2. www.tandfonline.com page appears. Full Subscription Members of SASCP, SSSSA, SASHS, SAWSS should receive access to SA Journal of Plant and Soil through www.tandfonline.com
3. See note at top of the TandF webpage: Resetting of passwords

4th May 2015: As part of an ongoing review into how we protect our customers’ details, Taylor & Francis Online will be asking all customers to reset their passwords. After this date, the next time you log in to the platform you will need to change your password using the ‘Forgot password’ link in line with new password strength requirements.

4. Go to 'Environment and Agriculture (200)', this lists all TandF Agriculture and Environmental Journals. Select 'S' from alphabetical list (right top of page). Listing for 'S' appears, including South African Journal of Plant and Soil, which can then be selected.

5. The title page of South African Journal of Plant and Soil appears, listing current research papers. Abstracts can be viewed. Select Research Paper from 'View Full Text', or 'Download Full Text'.

6. Enter your E-mail address and Password. (Registration may be required for first time entrants). An E-mail is sent by TandF to your E-mail address.
7. Proceed to TandF 'My Account'. Proceed to www.tandfonline.com
8. The SAJPS page includes a 'Search' function (top of page) and 'Browse Journal' 'Submit' via ScholarOne with Instructions to Authors' (left box).
9. Should you experience difficulties, please contact your society secretary to confirm subscription and address details.